ABSTRACT

This collection of 33 tables provides data on various aspects of higher education in Maryland. The first table provides comparative statistics for Maryland and the country at large in the areas of educational achievement, composite SAT scores (1997), enrollment, campus mix in enrollment, degrees conferred, average resident undergraduate tuition and fees, four-year change in state funding for higher education, and average salaries of full-time faculty. Most of the tables detailing Maryland data are based on the academic year 1995-96, although some figures are for fall 1997 or fiscal year 1997. Tables are grouped as follows: (1) students, (2) retention and graduation, (3) degrees, (4) faculty, (5) revenues and expenditures, (6) tuition and fees, (7) financial aid, and (8) private career schools. Examples of included tables are: students in core and non-core curricula needing remediation in college, undergraduate enrollment, graduate and professional enrollment, enrollment by race and gender, retention and graduation by race at Maryland public four-year institutions, community college success rates, degrees by institution and major program, full- and part-time faculty, revenues and expenditures of community colleges and public four-year colleges, undergraduate tuition and fees, Maryland financial aid program expenditures, and enrollment at private career schools. Notes:

(1) The designation of students as "core" or "non-core" depends on whether the student completed a course of study in high school that corresponds to the freshmen admissions requirements of the University System of Maryland. To be considered "core", a student must have completed all of the following:

(1) 4 or more years of English;

(2) 3 or more years of mathematics;

(3) 3 or more years of social science or history;

(4) 2 or more years of natural science and;

(5) 2 or more years of a foreign language.

(2) Figures for Washington County are affected by incomplete remediation data supplied by Hagerstown Junior College.

Second year retention rates are for the 1995 new full-time freshmen at the original institution and the graduation rates are for 1990 new full-time freshmen at any Maryland public four-year institution. University of Baltimore and University of Maryland at Baltimore are excluded because they do not enroll first-time freshmen. University of Maryland University College is excluded due to its mission to serve the adult part-time population.
